Good morning, everybody. And obviously we've got another light head. I keep getting these things sent to me. This isn't Gateshead Council's, by the way. Because I haven't seen any black ones. So before they start to run to their lackeys at Northumbria Police, this isn't Gateshead Council's, right?

We've already taken the light sensor off. This is a [?] light sensor, but what you can see from that: that's a plug-and-play, right? So the weapons part of it can be very easily installed. Because it's a plug-and-play, so this arrangement can be changed pretty quickly. These are the toxic LEDs, but with this unit – this unit actually has a diffuser. This side here, it's got a diffuser on.

Unlike the lethal 450 nanometers bare elements that we see in Gateshead, the criminal enterprise, what we see here is, we actually see a diffuser, which does give you a modicum of safety in relation to the emissions from these bare elements, all right? Because there's the bare element, there, with the lens in. This is a Phillips unit.

I'm going to show you a few things. But this is a light sensor, all right? There's the photo cell – you can see it there. That little black thing there. That's actually the photo cell. So this controls this, but unfortunately, with these, they can be changed very easily for a weaponized part – very easily, all right? These are low power, small set of capacitors there, 10 volts. Nothing really too dangerous about that, all right? That is actually a light sensor, the same ones as what's being replaced in the Gateshead area. The Gateshead area ones are suspicious, by the way, because of their size.

So they can be changed pretty quickly for an 868 system because the antenna needs a little bit of height about it, all right? It needs a little bit more height, so if you see anything about that big, I'd be very suspicious. And they're designing them around – obviously the information we're going on about.

But one of the things that's extremely concerning: these are immune system suppressors, all right? So they suppress your immune system. We know that. The industry say that. The science says that. Everybody says that. The only people that don't say that are criminals within your local authorities, etc.

show people, all right?

However, this is a light head, unlike the weapon system that was deployed – most of the weapons systems that have been deployed across the country, all right? This is a Phillips unit. Let's have a little look inside this [ballast?] box because this is the really interesting bit. I'm gonna

So we take that off, open that. and you can see, it's got some capacitance there. It's got a transformer, because obviously you need to transform down to these [LEDs], otherwise you'll burn them out, all right? So this is the main [?]. This is a power out, outputs.

So you've got a transformer here, you've got a number of capacitors. They'll help to straighten out the frequency – because obviously, what you don't want is pulsed frequencies [?] because potentially you're going to burn them out. That doesn't stop them being controlled and pulse-modulated by the way. You'd really have to get inside this. Now I've seen this with Phillips before. This gunk being sealed so we can't see the capacity – we can't see the equipment. You'd have to dig all this out to see what's actually in here, which is quite suspicious, by the way. It's quite suspect and suspicious. And I know what people will say it's there to stop and protect them. But you've got to remember: these are all sealed units anyway. So they're sealed units in a sealed unit, inside a sealed box. It's got a rubber seal around here [points to rim of whole light unit], all right? It's totally sealed in, there's no water ingress. So this is suspect, right? You've got to ask yourself the question: why are they sealing it up to stop people looking inside? Now the reason for that, we know that this can be changed with ease, all right? That can be weaponized very quickly with some of the equipment that we've already broken down and the large capacity to kill.

The whole plan is to put these weapon systems into your cityscape. Now, we've caught them out. We've caught them, and consequently we've got this hoax, this hoax virus now. Because obviously, the information is out there in the public domain. People are very concerned about it. So this is their second, back-up plan. The back-up plan: shut down the whole economies.

We've just heard there from Italy this morning: they're going to shut down all movement. Well, unfortunately, this is not the exact type of equipment that can cause the flu-type symptoms. What we're going to say: the corona, all right? What we do know, the other equipment can – and did! – and it was actually what was the cause in Wuhan. As we know by the heat temperature signature in the city, all right? So the fact that people can't breathe, the symptoms all appertaining to microwave radiation, as we saw on the [cruise] ships. Both of those passenger ships have got the upgraded system. This telecommunications network, facial recognition – all 5G, by the way. All 5G systems – any collimation of signal, coherence of signal, that's 5G. So all of these facial recognition pieces of equipment on these new ships ...

Anybody who's had the aluminium nano-particulates, so a flu jab, that carries with it any of these aluminium particulates that get into the brain or get into the lung. Then obviously, you're going to be in serious trouble. So the take-down – this is one of the reasons why it's an older population who are dying. Because unfortunately, they're foolish enough, silly enough to have had the flu jab, all right? Because this can activate it, all right? These are light-emitting diodes. This is radiation. It's optical radiation in the terahertz range. This is NOT street furniture. Designed as a weapon! As I've said, a weapon system is something that's been designed to cause bodily harm.

IEEE Warns About 5G, Bluetooth, Cell Phone, and WiFi Radiation Exposure

This one, by the way, is far safer as it's got this plate here. It diffuses the radiation significantly, so that would give you quite a bit of safety so, as it happens, this Phillips unit, unlike the units that were deployed in Gateshead and around the rest of the country, they are absolutely toxic to you. That's just as a matter of fact. The latest science shows that even the industry, like I said and I'm going to repeat it again: the industry are now coming out and referencing how dangerous electromagnetic radiation – and it's the pulse modulation from these type of pieces of equipment that causes that significant detrimental health to you, your family, your pets, the insects. Insects attracted to this – it'll kill them. Because the 450 nanometers, it was actually designed to cause the life destruction of small biological life, all right? So your mammals, your birds, your insects, all will die on being exposed to this type of light radiation, all right? That's just a matter of fact. That's what the science says. That's what we know to be correct.

Electromagnetic Radiation due to Cellular, Wi-Fi and Bluetooth technologies: How safe are we?

But it also is an immune system suppressor. So fortunately, we don't actually have a weapons deployment head on this one. This is a [?] quite an interesting name, [?], by the way. But they do manufacture equipment that is a lot more toxic. And because of this having a plug-and-play, it can be replaced pretty quickly for a weapon.

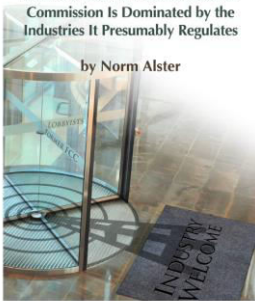

So we now see, because of the work that's being done, and because of the waking up of people about 5G and about it being weaponized, their second plan is the virus, all right? Because you've got to remember, this is their last roll of the dice. It's the last roll of the dice because we now know that they're criminals.

Captured Agency:

How the Federal Communications Commission Is Dominated by the Industries It Presumably Regulates

by Norm Alster

www.ethics.harvard.edu

We know that the regulatory bodies have been hijacked, we know that ICNIRP [International Criminal Network on Non-Ionising Radiation Projection] are a captured agency, and that's in the Italian courts, believe it or not, who have brought this up. Isn't it a bit bizarre that it's now Italy that's come under this attack? Because that's absolutely what it is.

You can activate this Covid19 – what they say it is. Absolutely not, by the way, I was speaking to a top virologist yesterday, who tells me it would be impossible for them to actually do the test, and especially on the ships. Where are they getting this information from? It's being driven, fear-porn, by the mainstream media, the controlled cabal mainstream media to frighten you so they can control you.

FIN: WE ALL HAVE TO GIVE UP SOMETHING FOR THE GOOD OF ITALY

So they've shut down, trapped people in cityscapes across Italy now. This is a crime. These are democracies. We do NOT consent and we do NOT believe the fake news. We don't believe it! If you believe it, believe me, your chance of surviving this is just about zero. The only people that survive this crime are the people that understand the technicalities and understand the crime that's being perpetrated against them.

It's coming here. It's coming across the West. This is their last roll of the dice. The paedophilia – all start to come out. We've heard it in the news now. When it comes out about Epstein and what actually happened, believe me, and the control of these elites through paedophilia and other sick satanic rituals, people are going to really start to wake up, right? And they're waking up now. So this video is really important, must get it out. Share it with everybody who wants to survive, all right?

That's enough for this morning. But I'm just going through this particular piece of equipment to explain to people the difference between a weaponized light head and one that's not. You'll see a massive difference in the technicalities in this light head compared to the one that was fitted across the Gateshead area and other areas across the country.

A crime! A crime! And what I'm saying to people: ring your police! This is a crime! This is genocide! THEY HAVE TO UPHOLD THE LAW WITHOUT FEAR OR FAVOUR. Ring your police! And if they don't act, it's up to us to act.

How to stage a fake epidemic (and brainwash billions of people) by Jon Rappoport

Event 201: Pandemic simulation exercise held at World Economic Forum in 2019

FEAR VS. REALITY – CORONAVIRUS by Peter Diamandis

Over the past week, our amygdalas (the fear centers of our brain) have been in overdrive. As Coronavirus (and anxiety) spread, I'm concerned by the level of pandemic fear circulating through our news and social media.

The goal of this blog is to give you a thoughtful alternative to fear... to contextualize what you are hearing...

Let's talk about death rates... While this is no apples-to-apples comparison, how we react to death is primal. And when we hear about Coronavirus-induced deaths, we go on red alert. But allow me to contextualize the numbers for you.

(Disclaimer: The below compared populations are different (China vs. world), and infectious diseases do not maintain a consistent daily average. But the point still stands...)

On one of the worst days for Coronavirus in China (February 10, 2020), 108 people died. But on a given day, globally:

26,283 people die of cancer;

49,041 people die of cardiovascular diseases;

4,383 people die of diabetes.

Meanwhile, suicide takes on average 2,191 lives....

Mosquitoes take the lives of over 2,740 people, and....

And HUMANS kill an average of 1,287 fellow people, every single day.

In response, this blog covers two key takeaways:

(1) The hard numbers to help you decide: Should I travel? Do I overstock my pantry? And is the world coming to an end? Let's look at the data on how Coronavirus compares to typical influenza (the "flu"). (SPOILER ALERT: we're seeing over 1000X more deaths from the regular flu, as of early March.)

(2) A brilliant blog on the realities of Coronavirus by Dr. Paul Sax, a Harvard Medical School classmate of mine (now Professor at our mutual alma mater), who serves as clinical director of the Division of Infectious Diseases at Brigham and Women's Hospital. His blog is brilliant. Read it. Share it.

Let's dive in.

Part 1: The Numbers... Let's look at the data

COVID-19 has come out of left field and left us blindsided.

But people are largely fearful because we don't understand it.

So let's look first at the numbers.

During the 2017-2018 flu season, CDC figures put U.S. influenza deaths at roughly 80,000. Meanwhile, global estimates indicated anywhere between 290,000 - 650,000 influenza-associated deaths from respiratory causes alone.

And in terms of deaths from influenza-induced lower respiratory tract infections, a 2019 study estimated 99,000 - 200,000 deaths for the 2017-2018 flu season.

The following year, CDC figures estimated 35.5 million Americans fell ill with influenza, resulting in 490,600 hospitalizations and 34,200 deaths.

And since this past October, the regular influenza has infected as many as 49 million and killed between 20,000 - 52,000 in the U.S. alone.

By comparison on a global scale, the Coronavirus outbreak has infected over 90,000 people as of early March, resulting in 3,462 deaths worldwide (today's stat).

While the fatality rate of Coronavirus now appears to be slightly higher than that of typical influenza (estimates range from 1.4% to the WHO's 3.4%), the toll of the common flu is staggeringly higher than that of COVID-19.

Concern—as with any infectious disease—is warranted, yes.

But knowing the numbers helps limit our fear of the unknown, and battle our amygdalas against irrationality.

These figures are not to suggest we should live without precaution. Regardless of how willing you are to sacrifice enjoyment for safety, it's critical to understand expert concerns and how to mitigate them.

How much risk are you willing to take? What are you willing to sacrifice in everyday enjoyment and carefree living? And should you really be hoarding toilet paper?
